NORMAL ADDS BAND INSTRUCTION COURSE

New Department to Open Monday. Attendance Increasing—Kindergarten Under Way

Together with the several new departments that have been added to the curriculum at the normal this year, the board of education at a special meeting held before last, closed a contract with Mrs. E. Williams as instructor of band and all orchestral instruments and that important new division of study will be opened to the use of students next Monday morning. Whether or not the normal will organize a band this year is not known but there is little doubt that a number of new pupils will enroll to take advantage of the special musical work. It is understood that the necessary instruments will be furnished for practice in which case the only expense on the part of the students will be the registration fee. Mrs. Williams is too well known in band circles in the valley to again be introduced, she originally conducted the band of Phoenix high and this summer she is teaching a class of juvenile aspirants for membership to the Tempe Merchants band.

Nearly 250 are registered in the normal and training schools now. The kindergarten enrollment is also larger than before. President Matthews said last evening that this mark so early in the season is very gratifying and that he fully expects six hundred to be enrolled before the close of the first semester. The senior and junior classes are the largest in the history of the normal, eighty-seven is the membership roll of the older class and ninety-five are enrolled in the junior year.

The kindergarten department which opened Monday is progressing nicely. Twenty students, members of the junior and senior years of the normal are classified for special instruction work in this department.

REBEKAH ANNIVERSARY

Nearly a hundred people, members, visiting members and guests, participated in the appropriate commemoration of the fifty-fourth anniversary of the Rebekah degree, held in the Odd Fellows hall Tuesday evening. The event marked the opening of the social affairs in the lodge hall this season and the enjoyment with which the guests entered into the evening's program was interesting to note. A literary program was enjoyed and followed by refreshments were served in the banquet hall. The young people concluded the evening's fun with dancing. The following program was given: Invocation, Rev. C. L. York; instrumental duet, Robert Finch and Miss Jewel Arnold; history of Rebekah degree, Miss Anna Stewart; vocal solo, Miss Myrtle Rice; vocal solo, Miss Marion Cook; reading, Miss Mattie York; "Rebekah Statistics," J. H. Cummings.

COTTON RISING

According to quotations received yesterday the cotton market has taken another rise within the last few days of three-quarters of a cent per pound. The prophecy that maximum prices will be paid for this staple product within the next few months seems likely and though the local exchange has taken no steps towards the sale of this season's crop so far, indications are good that a big price is going to be secured. A meeting of the board of directors of the exchange is on the docket for this afternoon and it is possible that some definite action will be taken at that time.

Mesa News Notes

ASKS HELP.

J. W. Canning, county humane officer, was in Mesa yesterday looking after Mesa's poor. He found several families in Mesa that are badly in need of clothing, furniture and etc. One family, the father, mother and seven children were living in a tent with no floor, and the family was without bedstead, mattress, table or chairs, and of course the supply of clothing and food was scant in addition. Mr. Canning says this is only one of several families which he visited. Mr. Canning asks such Mesa people as are willing to give any clothing, bedding or old furniture for which they no longer have any use and to notify any one of the following three officers: W. A. Burton, Charles Sabin, Thos. G. Peyton, and they will have the articles brought to the needy ones. If they can be supplied with clothing and etc., in this way, Mr. Canning says all of the county allowance can then be used to supply food, and in this way better provision can be made for them.

TO OPEN FISH AND PRODUCE HOUSE.

G. C. Suggs and H. E. Weber are arranging to open a fish and produce market in the room on McDonald street which joins the Grover pool hall on the south. The firm will be known as the Mesa Fish and Produce company and they expect to have a good stock of fish, vegetables and other produce. They will continue calling on the country trade as Mr. Weber has been doing up to the present. They have a consignment of fish on the road from Los Angeles and they expect to have their place of business open to the trade on Thursday of this week.

LACK OF ALFALFA KEEPS INDUSTRY'S WHEELS RUSTING

Alfalfa Mill Cannot Run Without Still More Hay Being Contracted for; Valley Supply is Still Over-large.

One cannot operate an alfalfa mill without alfalfa. A button factory can be run without a preliminary supply of buttons, but it is not so with alfalfa mills.

C. L. Nabors, in whose hands has been placed the business of reopening the Arizona Mill, here, is still short about three thousand tons of the necessary supply of hay for a season's business. He has been busy recently, interviewing ranchers, who are supplying part of the stock, and about seven thousand tons have been contracted for. No further progress toward opening the mill can be made until the stock is assured.

It is understood that there is a large quantity of alfalfa being held in the valley, since the failure of the market for the past year to live up to expectations. Nabors is wishful of seeing owners of any amounts of alfalfa, at his office in the Central building.
